VILLAGE WAR MEMORIALS

Sir,

Will you permit me to ask what the Great Ashfield War Memorial Committee has been doing all this time?

When we think that out of our little village we sent 48 to fight for King and Empire, and that twelve of them made the Great Sacrifice, we feel we ought to have a memorial worthy of these men. I trust the time is not far distant when we shall see a fitting monument on the Post Office square.

Yours faithfully,

AN ASHFIELD EX-SOLDIER

VILLAGE WAR MEMORIALS

Sir,

In a recent issue of your paper reference was made by "Ex-Soldier" about Great Ashfield War Memorial. Still nothing has been done.

We ought to be proud of our village and those who went to fight for us. Some gave their lives. Thus they gave us their best: cannot we give them our best?

Yours faithfully,
